NEW OFFICIAL OF OAHU RAILROAD 'COMES TO STAY'

J. K. Butler, Freight Traffic Manager, Arrives From the Mainland

Bringing with him his wife, their little boy Jack, and his household goods, J. K. Butler, freight traffic manager for the Oahu Railway & Land Company, is in Honolulu today and will take charge of his new duties at once. He arrived on the Matsonia last night.

"I am coming home," said Butler. "At least, that is the way I feel. We like Honolulu and we are going to stay."

Butler told a Star-Bulletin reporter that he has been assistant general freight agent of the Southern Pacific system for the last year and a half, and in the employ of that line for the last 15 years.

"I have had charge of state and federal commission work for the last seven years," he added, "and last year handled several hundred cases, involving a tax on rates, and a readjustment of the rate system in general."

Manager Butler will take charge of traffic for the Oahu Railway & Land Company, having his desk in the company's main office in this city as general freight agent, a new position created recently.

Prior to becoming assistant general freight agent of the Southern Pacific lines Butler was traffic statistician for the system, in the same line of work, compiling Southern Pacific data furnished the State Railroad Commission of California, and the Interstate Commerce Commission, for use in railroad legislation.

Mr. and Mrs. Butler's small son Jack was the pet of the Matsonia's passengers, and at the captain's dinner Tuesday night was presented with a handsome pennant. He was nicknamed "Captain Jack" by all on board.

BOARD OF HEALTH AND THE JAPANESE

(From the Nippon Jiji)
The Anti-tuberculosis department of the Territorial Board of Health of this city is indeed active in its duties for the welfare of public health, especially lately. The inspectors went all over the restaurants of this city to inspect their kitchens, cooking utensils, and ice refrigerators where the provisions are stored, and also plates, knives, forks and the napkins to see if they are properly disinfected. If they discover that the place of business is not sanitary, the health authorities give immediate attention to the place; if it perfectly sanitary, they will issue a recommendation to the owner of that restaurant.

This good policy of the Board of Health has encouraged all restaurant keepers to make their places as clean as possible in order to receive such a recommendation from the Board of Health. The restaurants which are conducted by the Japanese of this city

COMES TO LOOK OVER PROGRESS OF BREAKWATER

Coming to Hawaii to inspect the progress of work on the big Hilo breakwater, Richard Deming, vice-president of the American Surety Company of New York, is in Honolulu today. He arrived on the Matsonia last evening. He may be here several months, and plans a trip to the Orient next winter.

"This is my third trip to the islands. I have been coming here for the last two summers and this makes the third time," said Deming, whose ability as master of ceremonies at the capital's dinner Tuesday night gave him a reputation as a wit and graceful speaker.

"The American Surety Company went on the bond of the original contractor, the Breakwater Company," said Deming, "and when the contracting company went under the contract, totaling close to $500,000, was relet to the present contractor, Marshall, at our request."

Deming said New York has "gone crazy" over Hawaiian music, singers and hula dancers. He predicts a big tourist season this summer and next winter for the islands.

SUNDAY FUNERALS BARRED IN CHICAGO BY EPISCOPALIANS

CHICAGO, Ill.—There will be no more Sunday funerals in Episcopal churches of the Chicago diocese. Delegates to the 79th diocesan convention decided that churchgoers should have one day of rest in every seven. There was some heated discussion, several delegates holding that a church body should not recognize a labor union. Protest against Sunday funerals was made by the Chicago Federation of Labor.

TABLE SUPPLIES WILL GO HIGHER IN COMING YEAR

Groceries will be high the remainder of this year, and the public must not expect lower prices on any line of provisions, according to Lawrence M. Judd, manager of the grocery department of Theo. H. Davies & Company, who returned on the Matsonia from San Francisco last night, after a buying trip on the mainland.

"There is no particular reason for the raise in staple lines of groceries," he stated today, "except that the wholesalers are asking and getting high prices. They have us just where they want us, and we have to pay or go without."

Judd said canned cherries will be a great deal higher than last year, owing to a short crop due to a killing frost in the spring. Apricots and peaches are also short, which means higher prices on both. Flour is no higher than it has been, but neither is it lower. "Most things are on the advance," he added.

While on the mainland Judd saw several Honoluluans. He ran across J. S. and J. A. McCandless in San Francisco, saw Ned Adams of Alexander & Baldwin in Seattle, and saw F. L. Lyser and Julius Bayer of Hackfeld's, also J. P. Winne of A. & B. in San Francisco. Judd was in San Francisco, Seattle, Bellingham, Portland, Anacortes and Los Angeles.
